

Gift Station

The Transportation Museum has a Gift Station where you and your family can purchase clothing, toys, and other items. The Gift Station has two entrances:

Remember to use walking feet and quiet voices when entering the Gift Station. There will be some areas when you can play with toys and objects. Make sure to ask for help before touching and reaching for toys, clothing, and other things.

You may not be allowed to buy something. That is okay. If you are allowed to buy something, you will need to bring the toy, clothing, and/or other item to the counter so that you and/or your parents can purchase it.

After you make your purchase, it may be time to leave the Gift Station. It is okay to feel sad about leaving. Remember, you can come back another time. It is time to check your schedule and see “What’s Next?”

