

N.C. TRANSPORTATION MUSEUM TRAIN RIDE SOCIAL NARRATIVE

NORTH CAROLINA
TRANSPORTATION MUSEUM

too loud

toilet

drink

eat

no

yes

During my adventure, I can point to a picture to tell my family or friends if I need to go to the restroom, take a break, or get a drink.

On special days, I can take a ride on the museum's train!

To ride the train, I will have to buy a special train ride ticket from Barber Junction Visitor Center.

When it is time for my ride, the train will pull up to Barber Junction. I may hear the loud horn when the train arrives.

I may have to wait in line to ride the train, but that's okay.

Remember, if you have a ticket, you will get a turn to ride!

The conductor will ask to see my ticket.

His job is to punch a hole in my ticket to show the rest of the train crew that I have gone on my train ride!

Once I board the train, I will find a seat with my family or friends.

I can sit with my body in the seat or stand in front of my seat. I will keep my hands, feet, and body in my area.

Once the train starts, there may be some rocking, loud noises, or weird smells.

The train will move and stop. It will go forwards and backwards.

I will see lots of cool buildings, cars, and maybe other moving trains!

Once my train ride is over, I will wait until the conductor tells me that it is okay to get off the train.

I can get off the train at the Roundhouse or Barber Junction.

I am going to have so much fun riding the train at the N.C. Transportation Museum!